About the course Mentoring types

Course Presenter : Commerce lectures

Mentoring types, in this course explore the various forms of mentoring that drive personal and professional growth. In this course, we will learn about the different types of mentoring including one-on-one mentoring, group mentoring, peer mentoring, reverse mentoring, and e-mentoring. You'll discover the strengths and applications of each type, how to choose the right mentoring model based on context, and how to implement them effectively in educational, corporate, and nonprofit environments. Weâ€™ll also cover formal vs informal mentoring, and the impact of mentoring on leadership, employee development, and organizational culture. Real-world examples, role-play activities, and practical frameworks will help you apply your learning. Whether you're a mentor, mentee, or program coordinator, this course will provide you with the insights and tools to build meaningful and impactful mentoring relationships. Join us and master the art of effective mentoring. Commerce lectures
