About the course Behavioural Psychology Fundamentals

Behavioural Psychology course, in this course we will explore the principles and theories of behavioral psychology, focusing on the study of observable behaviors and the factors that influence them. Topics will include classical and operant conditioning, reinforcement schedules, behavioral therapies, and the application of behavioral principles in various contexts such as education, mental health, and organizational behavior. We'll examine influential research findings and theories from notable behaviorists like B.F. Skinner and Ivan Pavlov, as well as contemporary perspectives on behaviorism. Through discussions, readings, and practical exercises, students will gain a deeper understanding of how behaviors are learned, modified, and applied in real-world settings.
