About the course Market structure

Course Presenter : Commerce lectures

Market structure, in this course we will learn about market structureâ€”its definition, characteristics, and the key types including perfect competition, monopoly, monopolistic competition, and oligopoly. Youâ€™ll explore how each market type affects pricing, output, consumer choice, and competition. The course also covers the factors that shape market structure such as the number of firms, product differentiation, entry and exit barriers, and government regulations. Through real-world examples, comparisons, and case studies, youâ€™ll understand how businesses behave under different market conditions and how market structure impacts economic efficiency. This course is ideal for students, entrepreneurs, and anyone interested in economics or business strategy. Join now to develop the knowledge and tools to analyze markets and make informed business or policy decisions. Commerce lectures
