Laravel react authentication, in this course Laravel React Authentication course is designed to teach you how to build a secure and efficient authentication system by combining Laravel as the backend API and React as the frontend. In this course, we will learn how to set up Laravel Sanctum for SPA authentication, create API routes for registration, login, logout, and user profile retrieval, and protect these routes with middleware. You will explore how to set up a React application, build authentication forms, send API requests using Axios, and manage authentication state using Context API or Redux. We will cover protecting frontend routes, handling form validation errors, implementing password reset, and creating role-based access control.
