About the course React airbnb

Does Airbnb use react? Airbnb's web front-end is built with React, and the vast majority of developers at Airbnb are comfortable with this popular web framework. ... A few months later, with a test pilot app ready, Airbnb launched their first set of components using React Native to support their iOS and Android native applications.Is react native Dead 2020? React native is a great tool to develop hybrid app. And definitely it is not dead and community is not leaving it. Flutter is getting attention because it gives promise to the user for better performance and backward compatibility.Why is Airbnb ditched react native? If we take a look at the case of Airbnb, they ditched React Native after trying to introduce it in a reasonably big app, already written in native code. Around 2009, Airbnb was just a web-based platform, with increasing traffic on mobile devices.Is react and react native the same? React Native is for mobile applications while React is for websites(front-end). Both are frameworks invented by Facebook. React Native is a cross platform developing framework meaning one could write almost the same code for both IOS and Android and it would work.
